

How We Use Cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

These are the types of cookies Ravenscroft uses and the purpose they serve:

Cookie Name	Validity	Source	Type	Use	Information Collected
_ga	2 years	Google Analytics	First-Party Cookie	Used to distinguish users	No personal information. Browsing statistics.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.
